Introduction

Discover the amazing South Georgia and the interesting Falkland Islands on an incredible 20-day journey. Then, go on to the South Shetlands Islands and the Antarctic peninsula. Heading east toward the Falkland Islands (Malvinas), we will leave Ushuaia, the southernmost city in Argentina. The Falklands, a British Overseas Territory, provide a distinctive fusion of southern wildness and British civilization (think red phone boxes and tea), with penguins playing with sheep on historic battlegrounds. After leaving the Falklands, we travel to South Georgia. It's no secret that South Georgia, a swathe of craggy mountains covered in glaciers that pierces the gloomy sky, leaves an impression on everyone who visits. There are thousands of King Penguins, Antarctic fur seals, and elephant seals along the coast. You have to see the enormous penguin colonies, seas teeming with seals, and skies full of albatrosses to believe it. We will travel farther south through the Antarctic Peninsula's inlets and bays before crossing the well-known Gerlache Strait, which is home to towering peaks and glistening ice cliffs that rise straight out of the freezing ocean. This exquisitely stunning extraterrestrial terrain is characterized by icebergs, glaciers, mountains, and untamed snowfields. We usually try to get to places that highlight the finest breathtaking views of Antarctica, and we keep an eye out for incredible wildlife.

10/02/2027 Port Stanley, East Falklands

Duration

20 Days

The archipelago's largest island, Stanley, is a lovely hub of activity nestled in a sheltered harbor. Here, the Falklands Islands

Museum has fascinating exhibits devoted to maritime exploration, natural history, and the 1982 Falklands War. We'll likely visit

Gypsy Cove, part of Cape Pembroke peninsula, a National Nature Preserve.

Magellanic penguins, also known as Jackass pinguins for the braying sound they make,

breed here, nesting in underground

burrows. Other native bird species include

Black-Crowned Night herons, Long-Tailed meadowlarks, Two-Banded plovers, and Upland and Kelp geese. Nearby Ordinance

Point is the final resting place for several

World War II guns.

DAY 6: At Sea - En Route to South Georgia -
Day 6 & 7

Things continue ramping up with plenty of birdlife sightings as we make our way east across the Antarctic Convergence and officially enter Antarctic waters. See if you can identify the world's largest bird, the Wandering albatross. From soaring giants like the Southern Giant petrel to the tiny Wilson's Storm petrel, a range of impressive bird species will be hitching a ride on the updrafts created by ocean swells and waves. And be on the lookout for whale blows and our very first iceberg sighting.

DAY 8 - South Georgia Island - Day 8 to 11

Duration

20 Days

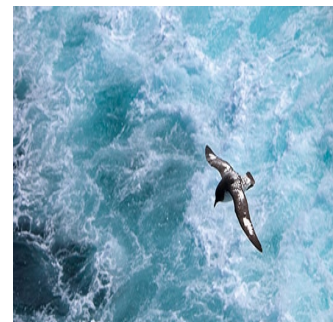

South Georgia is often referred to as the 'Isle of the Southern Ocean' and it's easy to see why as you take in tens of thousands (not a typo!) of breeding penguins, seals, and seabirds. Breathtaking mountain scenery, majestically sculpted icebergs, glaciers in every direction, and a rich historical tapestry are all here to complement the incredible array of wildlife on view as we travel down South Georgia's leeward coast. We'll also visit the historic Grytviken whaling station, featuring the tiny graveyard where the great Antarctic explorer Sir Ernest Shackleton is buried.

DAY 12: Scotia Sea - Days 12 & 13

Heading farther south, we'll continue our informative presentations and wildlife spotting as the icebergs become bigger and more plentiful.

DAY 14: Antarctic Peninsula & South Shetland - Day 14 - 17

Here we'll explore any number of picturesque bays and famed landing sites, maneuvering through iceberg-rich channels as we travel alongside an array of wildlife. There are opportunities to stop at several active scientific bases and historic landing sites as we take in the wide range of penguin species, seals, and whales along the rugged coastlines and in the sea.
